CLAHISCHO

'64

A paper bound loose leaf book was Volume I of the Clahischo. The name Clahischo was derived from the combination of the words Clayton High School. The pages of the Clahischo were mimeographed instead of printed ones as we have now. The first yearbook was dedicated to Mr. O. B. Welch, who was principal for 13 years. The editor was Jesse Austin, Jr. and Associate Editor was Roy Allen. There were 112 pages including advertisements. There were 24 seniors, 21 juniors, 29 sophomores, and 42 freshmen the year the first book was published.

Group pictures of grades one through eight were included. The High School faculty, in addition to the principal, was composed of four members. Other sections of the annual featured the Last Will and Testament, Class Prophecy, and pictures of clubs and superlatives.

This year's annual staff proudly presents their version of the 1964 Clahischo, Volume XVII.

“Scratch the green rind of a sapling, or wantonly twist it in the soil, and a scarred or crooked oak will tell of the act for centuries to come.
So it is with the teachings of youth, which make impressions on the mind

The highest function of this teacher consists not so much in imparting knowledge as in stimulating the pupil in its love and pursuit.”

Who as a teacher has done more than train minds of students by bending his energies towards the realization of a "greater C.H.S.," and who, as a man, has, by his own example, influenced the characters of those students with whom he has been constantly associated: the Clahischo Staff of Nineteen Sixty-Four respectfully dedicates the seventeenth volume of the Clahischo.

In the life of any institution, a complete changeover must eventually occur when the outdated gives way to the modern and vigorous. A feeling of activity and change has been in Clayton High School for several years, as thoughts and ideas have gradually emerged as tangible plans. Then progress suddenly became visible, ground was broken and buildings began to rise, brick on brick. Hard-hat workmen were numerous and the noise of electric drillers drowned out the unmistakable sound of "Student Studying." "PROGRESS" was the keynote of it all, a transition, but only the beginning.

A privilege enjoyed by high school students is our spacious new library.

The learning process is not complete until put to practical use.

Other things have been, are being and will be altered and improved in order to enhance Clayton's standing among American high schools.

It is with this realization of the broad impact that change brings now and later that the 1964 Clahischo is dedicated to the idea of Progress.

Our new $250,000 expansion

Now, what was my number?

The forward looking attitude of Clayton High School and its expansion affects those who are presently experiencing or directing the changes and will affect, in time, future classes and the name and reputation of our school.

The massive physical changes however, are only one phase of Clayton High School in transition.

Campus Life

Campus life is the sum of experiences of the Clayton High School Student. It signifies the routine, the unusual, the exciting - it is the story of one day, one week, one year, repeated over the four year span of high school. Within this time personalities are being developed and explored. It is not one phase alone; instead, it is the intermingling of all in one vast memory.

Mike Renerie crowns Paula Justice Miss Clahischo 1964!

The Queen of the 1964 Clahischo, Paula Justice, was chosen from a field of ten contestants on the basis of talent and beauty. Hard work and stiff competition set the pace for this tense pageant. Runners-up Peggy Flowers, Linda Mitchiner, Betty Jo Bledsoe, and Sandra Ferrell made the judges decision difficult. Mike Renerie from the WKIX radio station was the emcee for this occasion. Queen Paula began her reign at the Queen's Ball held after the Miss Clahischo Pageant.

Organizations

Clayton High School's Student Council has, as in past years, done a fine job in the development and upkeep of excellent school standards. Of course the new high school has added to and paced the interest and pride of the students.

Many assemblies are backed by the Student Council. A major function of the governmental council is the selection of the student and teacher of each month. From the nine students who are chosen, the most outstanding is constantly stressed by the council and our principal, Mr. James Waters. These Committees of inspection and cleanliness help to maintain the attractiveness of our school.

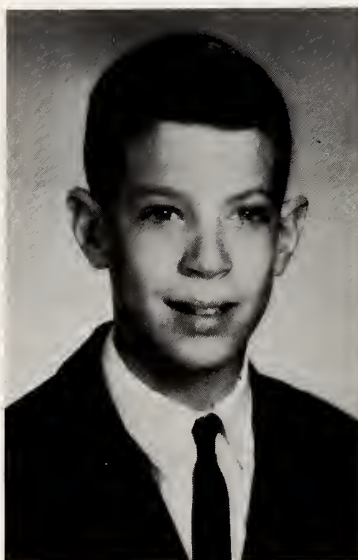

The Student Council, in its ambition, offers constructive leadership and government for the entire student body.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization for girls that have taken or are taking one unit of Home Economics. F. H. A. leads girls to become better all around persons in their school, home, and community life. It also prepares young girls to become good homemakers for the future. Some F. H. A. activities include making money to send a representative to the National F. H. A. convention. Some of this money is earned by sponsoring an annual spaghetti supper, some by a Junior Miss contest, and some is donated by local clubs and organizations. This year a Mother Daughter Tour and a trip to the County Home for the aging have been planned.

Recognizing the scientific minded individual in the high school is the objective of the Science Club. Newly organized since last year, it provides an opportunity for the students who wish to excel in science. The club arranged a Science Fair in the spring of 1963 which presented worthwhile projects depicting various methods of experimentation. In order to acquire membership in the club one must be enrolled in a science course and enter a project in the yearly fair. During the year a number of doctors, professors, and others interested in the scientific field have presented informative programs to the members. The Science Club has aroused an interest in science among our students.

The Blue Comets, coached by Glenn Nixon and Roger Penland, played great football and ran up a 6-3-1 record during the '63 grid season. The Comets earned a tie for 4th position in the Capital Area Conference.

Al Jones (All County), Earl Oldham (All County), James Hicks (All Conference), and Johnny Dixon (All Conference, All East), the four senior captains, all played greatly as can be seen by their awards to help the Blue and White cause. Here is a review of the season:

Clayton opened the season with a non-conference tilt with Wendell, there. It was the Blue Comets all the way with Al Jones starting the scoring with a safety. Earl Oldham, Ronnie Pittman and Glen Spence added the other points as Clayton swept by Wendell 22-0.

Ronnie "Bull" Pittman led Clayton to a 6-6 tie with the pre-season conference favorite, earned, the following week.

Well, beating Smithfield at home is just about as hard as trying to do the Yankees the same injustice, and the Clayton boys found that out. Connie Branch scored both of Smithfield's touchdowns in their win 12-0.

Starting Eleven

The following Friday at Apex, the Clayton Comets rolled up 279 yards total rushing in another victory, 19-6. Ronnie Pittman sprinted for 113 of these and a touchdown.

Ronnie Pittman scored twice and Harris Spence raced for 104 yards in the Blue Comet homecoming stomp over Wake Forest, 24-19. Harris and Karlton Jackson added the other points.

High posted Cary had to make a comeback before they could win over the Comets 19-14. Pittman had led the Comets to a 14-0 half-time lead.

Pittman and Spence each scored twice in 31-20 Comet win over Fuquay.

The Millbrook game here was, as an area newspaper put it, an early birthday present for head coach Nixon. Even though Ronnie Pittman was lost this season early in the game, the Blue Comets put on a great show and beat the undefeated Wildcats by a score of 13-7.

And again down at Selma, the boys won by out-swimming the Yellow Jackets. Clayton's Tiny White scored on the first play from scrimmage as he scamp-ered around right end for 60 yards. Final score; 27-13.

In final game of the '63 season, Benson "Got the Bucket," as they snibed us 21-19. Karlton Jackson scored what would have been the winning touchdown on a reverse strike, but the t-d was called back be-cause of a penalty.

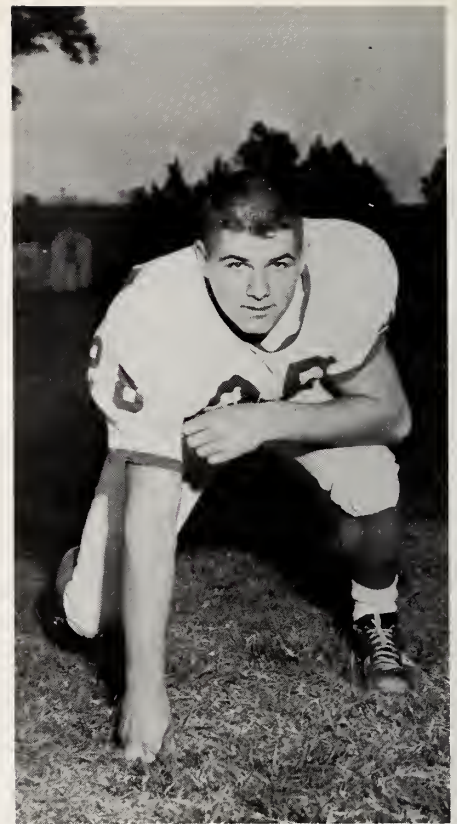

After Ronnie Pittman's injury in the Millbrook game, Harris Spence took over the show for the rest of the season. He ended the Blue Comet season with a total of more than 1,000 yards. Johnny Dixon, the greatest lineman ever at Clayton teamed with "Bug" for great performance.

Basketball

With the athletic program in full swing, many people had their doubts about the 1963-64 basketball team. Several lettermen from last year's team were returning, but no one player was expected to be a standout. This Comet team worked well together and started the season off with an easy victory over Selma to give Coach Penland his first win. After dropping two in a row, the Comets bounced back to upset the highly ranked Smithfield team 47-37.

As the season progressed the Comets looked as if they would have a good season, but the under-rated Garner team started the Comet slide.

Cheerleaders

With a swirl of blue skirts and a resounding "Give me a C," the cheerleaders helped inspire Clayton football and basketball teams. Composed of nine regulars and two alternates, the squad gets hoarse at all the home and out-of-town games. Comet supporters are directed by head cheerleader Kathy Hare. Each spring, the quietness of the school is temporarily interrupted by shrill voices, as girls compete for the positions on the squad. From these candidates a committee of teachers and coaches chooses nine regular cheerleaders. These girls sponsor pep rallies and the sale of victory ribbons to arouse school spirit.

Heave Ho — Down Records Go

Although last year's track team did not fare too well in the win column, the Comets put on a very successful first year's try. The 1964 team looks as if it may have a successful year, although it will be without the services of high-jumper Harold Holloway and pole-vaulter Billy O'Neil. Returning to this year's team is Jimmy Whitley who set the conference 880 record at 2 minutes, 5 seconds last year and then bettered that by 3 seconds. Also back are shot-putter Ronnie Pittman and miler Joel Hicks.

OFFICERS OF THE FRESHMAN CLASS

A freshman at C. H. S. displays hesitant eagerness, makes the same mistakes, and is just as uncertain as the many who have gone before. To a freshman, high school life is sometimes new and different. He finds, however, friendly faces, teachers eager to help, courses easier than expected, and of course, that long-awaited study hall.

All isn't play! Good grades suddenly take a new meaning. One learns to cram for exams, and studying past eleven o'clock becomes common to meet more difficult academic demands. Eventually the seasons change and a sophomore arises.

Sophomores

OFFICERS OF THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomore year is the year for knowing. Gone is the uncertainty and strangeness associated with one as a freshman. As a sophomore one knows: the campus - which teachers give the hardest exams - who's in what club - who the PC's are - when "Happy Hours" are - all campus slang. As a sophomore one has definite opinions, has his parents all figured out, and in short has the world by the tail. Graduation is away off in the hazy future. One knows that there lies ahead of him at least two more years of high school life, so "let the good times roll."

PETER CHAMPION
President

Now one realizes that he is a contributive element in the high school. The boisterous spirit of the sophomore year has subsided. The senior maturity has not yet come upon him. After elections one assumes leadership posts in major positions. Gone are the pains of required courses. One faces foreign language, term papers, and T.V. history classes. Finally the reward is at hand - May comes, a few finals, a summer, and a senior.

SENIORS

Now at last, from under the roof of Clayton High School, one goes into the world to expound learning and to gain by it that greater wisdom which lies ahead. Years at Clayton have been fleeting ones which were lived to the fullest and shall always be cherished among the best.

These years have been formative and have supplied the materials, the blueprints, the concrete, and the marble of our personal construction. The final finishing, the molding of the elements, may come later, or may never be achieved; but one can always appreciate the start which Clayton High School has given.
